Emily's Mission

Founded in 2002 by Mark Hagan, Emily's Place is a faith-based nonprofit committed to breaking the cycle of domestic violence for women and their children through long-term, transformational care. Our mission is to restore faith, hope, and health by providing safe housing, professional counseling, career development, and holistic emotional support- empowering survivors to achieve lasting self-sufficiency.

What began in a 1,300-square-foot church parsonage in South Dallas has grown into a two-acre campus in Plano, Texas. Today, Emily's Place features two 6,000-square-foot homes that provide safe, stable housing for up to sixteen mothers and their children as they rebuild their lives in a supportive, faith-centered community.

You Can Make an Impact

When you sponsor or donate to Emily's Place, you do more than give—you become part of a life-changing journey. Your generosity provides safe, long-term housing and comprehensive support for women and children escaping domestic violence at a moment when they need hope the most. For many families, arriving at Emily's Place is the first night they sleep without fear.

Because of you, survivors receive up to 24 months of stability in a secure, nurturing environment where healing can truly begin. Children experience consistency, safety, and care. Mothers rediscover their strength, rebuild their confidence, and begin to believe in a future free from abuse.

Emily's Place focuses on personal growth, financial empowerment, and family well-being- equipping women with the practical tools and emotional support needed for lasting independence. Your gifts fund counseling, career development and job training, childcare assistance, and life skills education- providing not just temporary relief, but a pathway to generational change.

Every dollar you give is more than a donation. It is a lifeline. It is a second chance. It is a declaration that abuse does not get the final word. Through your compassion and partnership, faith is restored, dignity is reclaimed, and families step into a future filled with hope.
